PRESS RELEASE:

On June 15, 2017, seventeen members of GCWS carpoled to Oklahoma City to view the 2017 Prix De West Exhibit at the National Cowboy & Western Heritage Museum.

Inspiration was gleaned from the over 300 Western paintings and sculptures from historical to contemporary works of art. Prices of paintings ranged from $4800 to $185,000. Unfortunately for us, the $185,000 painting was sold! The exhibit is open until August 6. To view the show online:

A patio lunch was enjoyed before browsing through the museum's gift store and traversing back to Tulsa.

We appreciate Teresa Herndon for organizing the outing for us!

At our June meeting, Jo Lynch reviewed GCWS's framing and subject guidelines for show entries.

Guidelines can be found on GCWS's website.

DeDe Burgess demonstrated how to mat and frame your work for GCWS's shows.
