January's program was a perfect "bullseye" by Nita Engle

Jim Gresham and Jim Buchan are shown setting up and testing the equipment for the January Program. The projection of Nita Engle's DVD came off without a hitch and Buchan's comments and personal examples added an extra punch to the presentation. Nita demonstrated some unique techniques including her "glowing bullseye". ■

GCWS has an agreement with the Hive in Jenks for them to host our Membership Show in September.

 January 22: The public

Guest speaker will be Addie Roanhorse, renowned Osage artist.

She uses aspects of her indigenous culture in her personal mixed-media work and in her role as Senior Graphic Designer for the Osage Nation.

Roanhorse will share the challenge of using cross-discipline design working with architects and museum developers for the "Momentary", a new museum being built in Bentonville, Arkansas, by Crystal Bridges Museum. She will also discuss the best-selling book and upcoming movie, "Killers of the Flower Moon: The Osage Murders and the Birth of the FBI."
